Spring Medicine
Is what children need to build up a reliable System to withstand the many diseases that fasten upon them at this season. The impure and impoverished condition of the blood, slight exposure and hard study at school cause many children to suffer from nervous, cross, and fretful disorders. Pimples or scrofulous humors are apt to manifest themselves, and the discomfort to depress. Hood's Sarsaparilla has in thousands of cases given just the needed blessing to sufferers of this class, by purifying all trace of scrofula from the blood, toning up the body, and giving to the digestive organs healthy and regular action.

Strengthen the System
"Last Spring my two children were vaccinated but soon after, they broke out with running sores, so the doctor told me I thought I should lose them. Some one spoke to me about Hood's Sarsaparilla as a purifier of the blood. I bought a bottle and gave it to the children. Soon as they began to take it they began to get better, till it cured them completely and they have remained so ever since." Mrs. C. L. THOMPSON, West Warren, Mass.
Mr. J. N. Ketchum, of Barre, Vt., says that his boy had never been very well; scrofulous sores on his leg. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured him.

Purify the Blood
"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me a great deal of good. I had no particular disease, but was run down and tired out from overwork, and my blood was impure." Mrs. G. E. SIMMONS, Colton, N. Y.
"About a year ago I commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. I was all run down; had no appetite; my food would not digest, and I was troubled with nervous debility. On taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I commenced to feel the effects of it. Five bottles taken four years ago have made a new man." J. H. McCALL, Rochester, N. Y.

A REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION

WILL BE HELD IN

NORUMBEGA HALL, BANGOR,

Wednesday, April 30, 1884, at 11 o'clock, A. M.,

for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Governor to be supported at the September election, and two candidates for Electors-at-large and two Electors at large and four alternates to attend the National Convention, to be held at Chicago, June 3, 1884, and to transact any other business that may properly come before it.

The basis of representation will be as follows, namely: Each town and plantation, will be entitled to one delegate, and for each 75 votes cast for the Republican candidate for Governor in 1882 an additional delegate, and for a fraction of 40 votes or more of 75 votes an additional delegate.

The State Committee will be in session in the Common room of the Hall at noon o'clock on the morning of the Convention for the purpose of receiving credentials of delegates.

The several cities, towns and plantations are requested to hold their caucuses, or elect their delegates at such time and place as their municipal officers may direct, (and in cities where the wards are separated, the several wards are requested to hold their caucuses at such time and place as their ward committees may direct,) and to choose their delegates to the Convention, and to fill vacancies, if any occur, in the delegation from their respective towns, cities, wards and plantations.

All persons who shall be chosen by regularly called caucuses, and such only, are requested to attend the Convention.

Vacancies in the delegations from any town, city, ward or plantation, occurring after the meeting of the State Convention, may be filled by the Republican voters thereof, at any time within sixty days before the meeting of the National Convention.

The chairmen of the various Congressional districts will have the option of electing their delegates at-large to the National Convention from their districts, or of appointing a committee of conference, which shall meet a like committee from the other districts, or by individuals of the State Committee, for the purpose of conferring and agreeing upon the delegates-at-large to the National Convention, according to the usage of the Republican party in such cases.

Each delegate shall be allowed from each Territory and from the District of Columbia, similar privileges.

Proxies of delegates shall be given to the National Committee men, or delegates from the same State, and no proxy shall be given except in writing, and signed by the person giving the same.

The basis of representation will be as follows, namely: Each town and plantation

SECRETARY.

Brewer April 17 1884.

Our despatches indicate a strong Blaine movement in Iowa and Ohio.

A gentleman who is familiar with the popular movement in favor of Mr. Blaine's nomination now gives him within twenty-one votes of a nomination on the first ballot.

The time for the State Convention is near at hand. There will be no opposition to the renomination of Governor Robie whose administration has commended itself to the voters of the State.

It seems to be the general impression in Washington that the business of the House was never in so unsatisfactory a condition as at present. This is not a flattering recommendation for the Democratic majority.

It would be well for those Greenbackers in this city who object to being sold out right to the Democracy to keep their weather eye on at least a portion of the delegates elected at the caucus Friday night.

Representative Hurd of Ohio, says he is bound to do all he can to defeat the Democratic party in the Presidential race. It is asserted that 50,000 copies of his speech on the wool bill have been ordered for distribution.

Speaker Carlisle's secretary, the correspondent of the Boston Post, admits that the Republicans thus far have made the best speeches on the tariff question, with the exception, he says, of the "admirable opening" by Mr. Morrison. If the last named gentleman is the ablest exponent of the free trade heresies of the Democratic majority the Republicans can congratulate themselves in advance.

There is talk among Democratic politicians from New York which indicates a strong movement to bring out Cleveland at the head of the National ticket. A number of Tilden's friends are named in Washington as being parties to it, and these latter speak of it as one for which Tilden will throw all his strength if he makes up his mind not to be a candidate himself. That little word "if" assumes very formidable proportions in this case.

Carlos Aguero, the Cuban revolutionary leader, is a man below the medium height and was only about 115 pounds. He has black curling hair and a small mustache which turns up at the ends. His smiles are grim and there is a look of recklessness about his face, but ordinarily he is the most harmless person imaginable in appearance. Aguero belongs to a wealthy family in Puerto Principe. He is not yet thirty, and has been in arms against Spanish authority in Cuba almost continuously since he was fourteen.

No amount of vociferation in Congress or out of it, can blind the eyes of laboring men to two facts: (1) That the tariff is very high, and (2) that wages are very low. All over the country the people in their minds, are slowly revolving these things and rubbing them together.—Commercial.

Yes, the people are thinking of these matters and in view of the fact that they are coming to understand more and more every day that in free trade countries wages are very much lower, work harder to find and the cost of living fully as high as in this country, they are rapidly reaching the conclusion that when the final decision is called for between protection vs free trade the verdict will be the same as in 1880.

The London Times remarks that the readers have taken very little interest in American politics during the past four months. We do not know whether there is any special significance in this British apathy, says the Tribune, but observation shows us that when perfidious Albion does interest herself in our politics it is only to manifest her phenomenal ignorance of them. By-and-by the Presidential campaign will stir up our neighbors again, and then we shall have the Times explaining to its readers that Mr. Blaine is an old Virginia planter who fought under Lee, that General Logan has long represented Maine in Congress, and that records are to be the main issue, to which Ross Kelly and Mr. Tilden are unalterably opposed. In truth, we miss the English articles by American politics, for they are unique, and it is impossible to deny that they possess a weird beauty all their own.

A Fusion Scheme

[Lewiston Journal.]

After Frederick Robie had defeated Hiram M. Plaisted, the Fusion nominee for Governor of Maine, in 1883, the Democratic leaders and organs could barely find words enough to express their disgust with fusion. They denounced it in unsparing terms and declared that they would have no more of it. As an illustration of the views of the Democratic papers of the State we have proclaimed that in 1884 the Democratic ticket would be formed in the interest of standing on its own bottom and not resting the public that Mr. Plaisted had acted in his behalf in order to defeat nomination to run his own campaign without any shackling or trading with the Greenback backers. Not more than eight days ago, in connection upon the action of the only three members of the Democratic State Committee who were in favor of fusion with the Democrats, the Bangor Commercial, on which the name of Nobody is supposed to rest, said:

"At the time of the meeting of the Greenback State Committee at Lewiston on Wednesday, the first day of April, the Democratic members of the committee, to a man, were opposed to any fusion with the Greenbackers, and the belief that their opposition would control the action of the Democratic vote in the capture of the Greenback vote was not lacking. In striking contrast with these editorials appear this week in the Democratic New Age of Augusta and the Democratic Progressive Age of Belfast, which invite, and in fact the duty of the Greenbackers to fuse with the Democratic party in order to defeat the Republican party. Union between Democrats and Greenbackers is spoken of as a thing to be desired, and the Democratic party is urged to make concessions to the Greenbackers in order to secure it."

We believe that Greenback Convention on the 21st of this month will be largely attended and wise counsels will prevail. We trust the Convention will adjourn to the 17th of June without making a nomination for Governor, and proceed to the selection of a candidate for that office after the nomination of the Union or Democratic party, and taking the party measure of the strength of the Union or Democratic party, and the attitude of each of the Republican party.

That party takes that position and that attitude will find favor in the eyes of the people. Every consideration of fairness and honor demands this course of the Greenback leaders. The interests of the public interests require it. The Union candidate this year will be taken from the ranks of the Democracy. The Age of Belfast intimates as much, but cracks the whip with sufficient emphasis by belittling the strength of the Greenback party which, it says, "cannot cast more than 15,000 or 16,000 votes in the coming fall." This is nothing that the friends of the Greenback party will be held now against them in telling the Lewiston convention that the attempt to force the nomination of a Democrat for Governor in advance will be unsuccessful this year.

It remains to be seen whether the Greenback Convention will follow the course dictated to it by the Democratic press and by the Belfast organ of the Democracy, or some Greenbacker at Lewiston next week will arise who will object to being led by the nose in this humiliating manner, and will resent the attempt which unquestionably will be made to capture that convention. The scheme of nominating the Lewiston convention for the purpose of selling a Bourbon candidate for Governor upon the Greenbackers as the result of the Democratic, the Bangor Commercial to the contrary notwithstanding, is too transparent to be successful.

The Iroquois Banquet Speeches

[Chicago Inter-Ocean.]

The overwhelming defeat which the Democratic party met with in the Presidential election of 1880 was the subject of more serious reflection and discussion than any other event which has occurred since the close of the war. Democratic statesmen and politicians of all shades of opinion and belief have sought for the cause of that defeat, and for the means of avoiding a similar disaster in the future. Democratic journals and orators have ascribed it to various causes, and have suggested various remedies. The Democratic party has been charged with the crime of attempting to overthrow the government by force, and with the folly of attempting to do so by fraud. It has been charged with being the party of secession, and with being the party of repudiation. It has been charged with being the party of the rebellion, and with being the party of the Ku-Klux Klan. It has been charged with being the party of the South, and with being the party of the North. CITY OF BANGOR.

Ordinance Amendatory to Section 43 of Ordinance Entitled "Injurious Practices."

Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Bangor as follows:

Section 1. Section 43 of Chapter 1 of Ordinances entitled "Injurious Practices" is hereby amended by striking out the words "three dollars" in the fifth line thereof and inserting in lieu thereof the words "five dollars."

Sec. 2. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this ordinance shall forfeit and pay for each offence a penalty not more than five dollars nor less than one dollar, to be recovered on complaint before any police court or trial justice within said city, and one half of said penalty when recovered shall be paid to the complainant and the other half to the treasurer of said city for the use of the city.

Passed Feb. 7th, 1884, by the City Council.
Attest: VICTOR BRETT, City Clerk.

DEATH ON THE RAIL.

Body Found on the Track.

OAKLAND, April 20 The body of an unknown colored man was found on the track of the Maine Central this morning, mangled beyond recognition Coroner Boothby, of Waterville, will probably deem an inquest unnecessary.

THE OAR.

Regatta on the St. Croix

BOSTON, April 19 Assurances have been received from Hosmer, Ross, Courtney, Lehner, Hamm, Conley, Lee, Ten Eyck, Dalsted and Riley that they will start in the regatta to be held on the St Croix river, at Calais, on the 29th of July, and it is probable that Peterson will also start The purse offered is $1,000, of which $600 goes to first, $300 to second and $100 to third Challenge from Dalsted.

Fred Dalsted, in a letter to the Sunday Herald, says Conley and Hamm have challenged Peterson, of San Francisco, and the California rowers to make race with either, that he will row him two or three miles, for $2,500 a side, over Charles river

SUPPRESSION OF FOUL PLAY.

A Body Identified.

BOSTON, April 19 The body of the late Elbridge Hall, of Hopkinton, a forwarder and wealthy old fogy, who was buried last Sunday, was exhumed yesterday and an autopsy being held upon petition of the selectmen and the citizens of Hopkinton The petition alleges that the deceased died under suspicious circumstances A few days before his death he willed $1,000 privately to Dowdoin, leaving a large number of relatives without a dollar and they propose to contest the will The stomach of the deceased has been sent to the State chemist for analysis

FROM WASHINGTON.

About the Capital

Special to the Bangor Whig and Courier.

WASHINGTON, April 19 The House committee on Civil Service Reform to-day ordered reported adversely bills for the repeal of the civil service law and to reduce the salaries of the President, Cabinet officers, Judges of the Supreme Court and Congressmen In response to an inquiry from Philadelphia as to whether the appropriation committee would refuse to make appropriation for the Civil Service Commission, Mr Randall to-day wrote a letter saying the committee would not attempt to nullify by existing law by refusing appropriation

SPRING FRESHETS.

The Connecticut Rising.

HARTFORD, Conn, April 20 The Connecticut River is risen at the rate of four inches per hour since noon to-day. At two o'clock the river was reported and fifteen inches of rain had fallen Trains were delayed and travel impeded Many bridges have been carried away, but no damage was done to the mill property The lake on Farmington Mountain is the highest ever known and there is no break loose anywhere in the whole region Great destruction would result

FORTY-EIGHTH CONGRESS—FIRST Session.

House

WASHINGTON, 19 The Speaker laid before the House the following named messages from the President which were appropriately referred

Annual report of the secretary of State in full in gard to the final arrangements for the next rough and ready in this Commission and the United States for Settling for the payment of claims of French citizens against the United States The President recommends the appropriation that may be made the above agreement to fulfill the stipulations made the treaty of January 15, 1880

Letter affording information from the Secretary of State relative to the approaching visit of myself and Madame Grevy to the United States and asking the appropriation of $250,000 to defray the expenses of the visit

Letter from the Secretary of War transmitting a report in response to the resolution of the House of Representatives of January 14 in relation to the purchase of Long Island for the purpose of locating thereon a military post

Letter from the Secretary of War recommending the appropriation of $10,000 to defray the expenses of the Board of Engineers for Fortifications

The House then went into Committee of the Whole on bills reported from the Committee on Public Lands The first bill considered was that establishing and maintaining the department of labor and industrial statistics, reported from the committee on Labor, strictly adverse to the passage of the bill, and to the only substitute for it reported from the committee on Public Lands Mr Hill (Ohio) spoke in favor of the bill and Mr Taylor (Ohio) opposed it

Mr Blount (Missouri) offered an amendment providing that the bureau shall be under charge of the President of the Knights of Labor, but

On motion of Mr Bayne, of Pennsylvania, an amendment was adopted requiring the bureau to collect full statistics relating to the importation and importation of labor

On motion of Mr Cutcheon, of Michigan, an amendment was adopted requiring the bureau to collect statistics relating to the cost of production and of shortening the hours of labor

On motion of Mr Warner, of Ohio, the salary of the Commissioner of Labor Statistics was reduced to $3,500

Numerous amendments were offered and severally voted down and although no debate was allowed upon them the committee rose on a point of order of no quorum voting Yeas 125, nays 85 And it was announced that the bill was passed by yeas 152, nays 10

It then passed over the veto the bill for the establishment of a bureau of labor statistics in charge of a commissioner at a salary of $3,000, who shall acquire all useful information on the subject of labor, its relations to capital and the means of promoting the material, social, intellectual and moral prosperity of the laboring men and women of the land and to employ such employees as he may deem necessary for the successful working of the bureau providing that the total expenses shall not exceed $25,000 per annum Adjourned

FOREIGN NEWS.

A Massacre of Refugees

CAIRO, April 20 A large number of refugees owing to the shortness of provisions left Berber recently a few days ago and encamped on the Nile bank near Ibrahimieh, a town surrounded by swamps of reeds who attacked the stragglers on all sides and massacred every body on board the fugitives numbered 600, including a portion of the Berber garrison and many women and children.

Nubar Pasha, Prime Minister, fears before long the spirit of rebellion will reach Cairo Nubar has received a despatch from Hassan Pasha, Governor of Dongola, who states that the Mahdi, the Mohammedan leader, is actually threatening Dongola with a force of 30,000 men Hassan Pasha will shortly be joined by three regiments, which are now in the town and Armenia, and a force of 1,000 men from Hassien Pasha Governor of Berber Hassan Pasha believes he will be able to hold out in Dongola until assistance arrives, but is convinced that if Khartoum is besieged it will be impossible to relieve it Nubar Pasha is of the opinion that the defence of Khartoum is considered fully justified.

A HOUSE CONCERN

A Swindling Operation Closed Up

BOSTON, April 19 C H Guernsey, manager of the Waltham Watch & Silver Plate Company, which has just been exploded by the Courier-Herald at the instance of the Waltham Watch Company, is well known in this city in connection with several swindling concerns, the most recent of which, the Sheffield Cutlery Company, is probably remembered by many victims, before the concern was found out One of the mails has been found that the Waltham Watch & Silver Plate Company, which has just been closed up, has mailed over 40,000 seductive circulars all over the country, the method being to obtain a sum of money in advance payment for an agent's outfit, of little or no value The fraud was first discovered by the bona fide watch company, which for a week or more past has been deluged with letters from the victims of the bogus company, some of them being money orders against the swindlers In the absence of complaints from the so called parties the law is powerless to move against Guernsey

FROM PARIS Our Paris correspondent writes The rain and thaw of the past three days have swollen the streams of this section but nothing to report of serious proportions The fair in the West Branch of the Matawamkeag, situated in Island Falls, is now nearly down to the Line on the 10th where a jam formed The rush of waters undoubtedly carried away the Chase Brook Company's addition to mill dam built last fall, since R. C. Balkam's steamboat M I Gould, on her way and circle that vessel, some quarter of a mile down stream where it was formed and before this gave way the boat was secured to trees on the shore otherwise she must have been stove to pieces The stream, emptying into the West Branch near Island Falls was at its height Tuesday morning, carrying with it the Chase Bros's mill dam and small bridge, also owned by Henry White The banks of the stream in places are overflowed and the sloughs and being driven by the current is fast up into the flat lands about Island Falls Fortunately, on account of the Mattawamkeag being dammed last November this was about the only lot of logs gotten out to drive on these waters this spring —The loads are in almost as jumpish shape on addition —The telegram to Patten states that the log has again changed hands the Stevens Brothers having handed it over to Mr Davis, the contractor, who took charge Saturday morning

REFORM CLUB MEETING Although an inclement Sunday, there was a large attendance in City Hall on the afternoon of the meeting Pine Ayer conducted the services, Mrs Wescott of the Crusade read the Scriptures and Asst Chaplain Hunt offered prayer Pres. Ayer, in his opening remarks showed the necessity of all working together to save themselves and also to assist others He was followed by Rev Webber, Richardson, and Vice Pres Cushman, of the Club and Mrs Prentiss, of the Crusade, all speaking in favor of total abstinence and the many benefits to be derived from living a true temperance life Mrs Wood President of the W C T U of Somerville, Mass was the next speaker and showed that by united effort on the part of the ladies of her city for three successive years license has been defeated Prof Ayer then called upon Ira Davis Esq., of Corinth, his remarks were eloquent and forcible, urging the fathers to sign the pledge that the boys never could say they learned to drink from their fathers The large audience listened attentively throughout the exercises and many young men signed the pledge at the close of the meeting The singing was very fine the solo chorus by Mondy, 'Father I bow to thee,' solo, Mrs Wallis, 'I never won't you stop your drinking' and trio, Mrs Robberts, Mrs Wallis and Miss Goldthwaite, 'Poor little Jim'

A SUNDAY SCHOOL CONCERT was held in West Bangor Chapel, last evening, which was interesting and impressive exercise entitled, "The Cross Bearer," by Mrs E H Thompson, was given under the direction of the Superintendent, Mr N B Littlefield The opening service was a quartette, "'Tis Midnight," Mrs Crowell, Mrs Horton, Messrs. Ray and Farrington, prayer by Mr B. M Wright of the Seminary, the school sang, 'When I Survey the Wondrous Cross,' reading by fourteen little girls, 'The Cross Pre-ected,' hymn by the school, 'Cross and Crown' recitation, 'Cross selected,' by the school, 'A Changeless Cross,' read by Miss Louise Savage; duet, Mrs Horton and Mr. Ray, 'It is True that Jesus Died,' 'The Cross Lightened,' by Superintendent, quartette, 'O, Jesus Take Me,' by young ladies of the school, Mrs H Stevens, Misses Winnifred Hutch, Emma Devone and Susie Foster, 'Cross Worshipped,' by Mr Wright, texts by the school, 'Cross Ashamed of,' the reading of the four verses was followed by a quartette, 'Ashamed of Jesus,' by Mrs Crowell and Mrs Horton, and Messrs. Ray and Farrington; after other readings Mrs. Horton sang 'O Rest in the Lord,' 'Cross Borne After Christ,' answered by texts; recitation by Edwin Derry, solo by Mr. Ray, 'Sunset,' 'The Cross Manifested,' solo by Mrs Crowell, 'Nearer My God to Thee,' 'The Burden Bearer,' by Mr. Wright; quartette, Mrs Crowell, Mrs. Horton, and Messrs. Ray and Farrington, 'O That My Load of Sin were Gone,' 'Cross and Crown,' recitation hymn by school, 'Jesus Lover of My Soul,' benediction by Mr. Wright. The musical selections were finely rendered Miss Estelle Ingalls accompanied on the organ, and in the choruses by the school by Mr. Edward Adams also on the cornet

Four drunken fellows were arrested in Brewer Saturday night and lodged in the station house

THE CLIFFORD LAW LIBRARY, which for years has been offered such a mine of legal lore to the lawyers of this State, Messrs. Little & Brown, the law publishers of Boston and the work of packing the volumes preparatory to their removal to Portland and to Boston has begun The terms of sale are private The library contains from 5,000 to 6,000 volumes, including all reports of all the states up to the year of Judge Clifford's death It also includes the Digests of all the States The library also contains the reports of all the New Brunswick courts, including the Court of Appeals The series includes all leading English reports, and what is very rare Reports of Decisions of the House of Lords (this is a complete series) very valuable patent law books and a series of English Admiralty Decisions are in the library Of course this library has also a complete series of U S Reports and Digests The reports alone probably cost Judge Clifford about $22,000 It is to be regretted that the efforts of Judge Walton to raise funds among the lawyers of the State to purchase the library, and keep it in Maine did not succeed

The Trip of the Dolphin

As previously announced, the new steamer Dolphin, just built for the Mount Desert Fertilizer Company, made a trip on Saturday to the company's factory at Bass Harbor

Notwithstanding the cold and gale, at seven o'clock Saturday morning a party of a dozen comprising W C Hamlin, President, Frank H Clergue Secretary and Treasurer, and other members of the company, and invited guests, including a representative of the Whig and the Mining and Industrial Journal, found themselves on board the neat and pretty little steamer, and at twenty minutes past seven the boat started Existing ran to Hampden and back, this was the boat's first trip, but the machinery worked to perfection and a delightful run was made to Bass Harbor, a distance of seventy miles, in six hours and a half, without hurrying a journal of Bangor, and it ran so smoothly that there was hardly a perceptible jar.

The factory buildings looked lively as the boat steamed into the harbor, and her coming was hailed with delight by many of the townspeople who were assembled on the wharf An inspection of the factory showed that the superintendent, Mr Charles J Mitchell, had been making good use of his time and materials in the construction of a fine line of buildings admirably adapted to the purposes for which they are to be used and which only await the arrival of a portion of the machinery to be set up to commence operations, both in the packing of sardines and in the manufacturing of fertilizer

They were also pleased to find out the wharf, Mr Geo B Wright, of this city, who is in the company's employ and who has also set Mr Mitchell in the work of construction A pleasant stop was made at the Tremont House, kept by Mr Benjamin Benson, and at about half past ten Sunday morning the party started on the return home, arriving here at a quarter past six making the run in seven hours and three quarters, despite the ugly current caused by the ice packed in the river

Notwithstanding the sun did not shine his face during the two days, and that it was smooth as a mill pond and the trip was almost delightful one to all, who unite in wishing success to the Dolphin and the Mount Desert Fertilizer Company

A BAPTIST MINISTER'S EXPERIENCE.

"I am a Baptist minister, and I never thought of being a clergyman I graduated in medicine, but left, for the Mount Desert Fertilizer Company, made a trip on Saturday to the company's factory at Bass Harbor

Dr. Cilley, Jr., Bangor, Me., says: "I am a Baptist minister, and I never thought of being a clergyman but I graduated in medicine, but left, a lucrative practice for my present profession forty years ago. I was for many years a sufferer from piles. Thomas' Eclectric Oil cured me It was also troubled with hoarseness, and Thomas' Eclectric Oil always relieved me My wife and child had diphtheria, and Thomas' Eclectric Oil cured them, and it taken in time it will cure seven times out of ten I am confident it is a sure cure for the most obstinate cold or cough, and if anyone will take a small spoon and half fill it with Oil, and then place the end of the spoon in one nostril and draw the Oil out of the spoon into the head, by sniffing, as hard as they can, until the Oil falls over in to the throat, and practice it twice a week, I don't care how offensive their head may be, it will clean it out and cure their catarrh For deafness and earache it has done wonders to my certain knowledge In fact the only medicine dubbed patent medicine that I have ever felt like recommending and I do very much so I see it in every place, for I tell you that it would not be without it In my house for any consideration I am now suffering with a pain like rheumatism in my right limb, and nothing relieves me like Thomas' Eclectric Oil" Dr. T. F. Cilley, Jr.

Agricultural.

One great advantage of an early vegetable garden is that two crops may be grown in one season. If an abundance of manure be used the drain upon the soil should not be great.

No farmer has enough working capital if he is obliged to make store bills during the summer to be paid in the fall. He had better sell some of his stock, or a part of his land even, so as to have money enough to pay for everything as he buys.

It will surprise old-fashioned poultry growers to learn that the common hawk is regarded as a valuable bird. He destroys one hundred field mice for every chicken, and if there is a fair amount of shrubbery around the hen yard very few chickens will be lost from his depredations.

It is very rare that a hen's time is worth too much to be spent in brooding and rearing a family. This is more nearly an automatic method of rearing chickens than any which art can devise. It will, at least, run itself with less help than any other, and with more certain results.

When water is running in ditches where drains are to be laid, it is always most convenient to begin at the upper end and lay towards the outlet. In this way we avoid the danger from sending muddy water down through the tiles which might nearly choke the outlet before the upper part was all laid.

Fortunately, those who own soil of any kind can grow fruit successfully. Some kinds grow better on light than on heavy soils, but even on the worst clays success is possible with drainage and good cultivation. For pears heavy soils are preferable, as the trees are less liable to blight. Insect enemies are generally most destructive on warm, light soils.

There is surely nowhere in this country this season any excuse for using small, scabby or otherwise imperfect potatoes for seed. It is safer even in years of scarcity to plant only smooth, ripe and well-shaped potatoes. The plant is in the nature of a cutting, and the product of tubers is strongly influenced by the character of the potatoes from which the eyes are taken.

In the poultry house no inside fittings should be permanent fixtures. Plenty of dry dust should be supplied, in which the birds may clean themselves. Amateurs should commence with small flocks. Meat is an important feed once or twice a week, and oftentimes prevents feather eating. Poultry yards should be long and narrow so as to facilitate plowing and cultivating at times. Left to her own pleasure a hen eats a little of most everything here in the yard a variety of food should be supplied. Scalded hay, the greenest cut the better, chopped fine, is an excellent feed in winter. Sodiola is dustbage. A successful poultry raiser feeds his nine fowls as follows: In the morning, one plot of corn meal and one quart of shorts seasoned and scalded. In the afternoon one quart of barley.

Prof. George H. Cook, of the New Jersey State Agricultural Experiment Station, concludes after much experimenting with the feeding value of ensilage that it is a wholesome and nutritious food, milk made from it fed daily to cows having been uniformly satisfactory in quality to the numerous customers who have used it; that when compared with finely-cut dry fodder, it has not in most of the experiments made been found more nutritious. The fact, however, should not be forgotten, that most of the dry fodder ration by ensilage is much reduced in value by exposure to the weather, or by imperfect curing. It is well known that the use of rye as ensilage, or dried as a fodder, has not been successful on account of being too tough after it has headed out. A good remedy has been found to cutting the rye while it is yet tender, and packing it away as ensilage. This early cutting leaves the land ready for a crop of fodder corn or millet. Such rye ensilage was kept at the station thirteen months, and was readily eaten by cows, and the milk yielded was about the same as when they were fed on green and fresh rye.

To Control the Bearing Year.

[New England Farmer.]

It is now over fifty years since observing orchardists have noticed that American apple trees bear their heaviest crops in the even years, as in 1880, 1882, and their lightest crops in the odd years, as 1879, '81, '83, and so on. Last year, the crop was light, and consequently we may look for an abundant crop again the coming season. It would be very desirable to be able to so control the bearing of our trees that we might have a fair crop each year. It would be better both for the producer and the consumer, for now we all have a surfeit one year, with prices that are unremunerative, while the next year we all have to go without apples, or else pay extravagant prices for them.

Every bearing year we see recommendations for picking off portions of the blossoms in order to change the bearing year, just as if the change were one that may be easily made. Some are recommending to pick the blossoms from a single tree in order to try the experiment, and see if the thing can be done. Experiments enough have already been tried to settle this question as to the possibility of changing the bearing year of our trees, provided we will go to work in the right way, and will persevere to the end. But it will be only time and labor thrown away to attempt a change upon a single tree or upon only a few trees in a large orchard, unless the orchard is at considerable distance from other orchards, and also unless great pains are taken to destroy all insect life in the fruit that falls from the trees prematurely.

Several causes have had an influence in bringing about this habit of our trees to bear most of their fruit the same year. A severe and widespread frost, that should destroy the blossoms, would cut off the crop for one year, and leave the trees in just the condition for bearing a full crop on the following year. In a year of abundance, there are a great many insects propagated, and allowed to grow to maturity. These, like the apple curculio and codling moth, are not much noticed in years of abundant fruit, because there are a great many sound apples to go into the cellars in the fall, but in years of scarcity, the numerous insects grown the year before, may have so little feeding ground as to be much crowded. We have counted as many as twenty-five curculio punctures in a single half-grown apple that fell from a tree that had its blossoms all picked off the previous year, for the purpose of changing the bearing habit of the tree.

Where a farmer has a young orchard that is about coming into bearing, it would not be a very difficult thing to so make the orchard an even or an odd bearing orchard. It is a small matter to pick the blossoms from young trees, compared to doing it upon an orchard of mature trees. Insects are the greatest enemies to the orchardist at the present time, and no one can expect to succeed in growing fruit unless he will learn how to control the insects, and will then act up to his knowledge. When we conclude to clean up and destroy all the immature fruit that falls, from the time the curculio begins his work until the codling moth ends hers, then, and not until then, may we count upon good crops of apples every year. Without this the picking off of blossoms from few or from many trees, will be labor that will bring very little return.

A TRAGIC EVENT.

A FATHER'S HEART AND HEEL INFLICTED DEATH. HIS SON'S FINAL MESSAGE TO LAY TO SAVE HIS FAMILY.

The graphic occurrence that is described below is one of the most remarkable episodes in the domestic history of America. It is absolutely truth which can readily be certified.

The inhabitants of the pleasant town of Cortland, N. Y., were shocked one morning by the announcement that Mr. Clinton Rudge, one of the most prominent citizens, had committed suicide. The news spread rapidly and caused the entire neighborhood, where Mr. Rudge was well and favorably known, at first to be discredited as impossible that any one so quiet and domestic could do so rash a deed, and the inquiry was heard on every side as to the cause. The facts as developed on investigation proved to be as follows:

Mr. Rudge was domestic in his tastes and took the greatest enjoyment in the society of his children and in their developments. And indeed he had good reason to be proud for they gave promise of success and usefulness. But a few days ago the youngest child, a boy of four years, began to show signs of an injury to the ear. He felt unusually tired each day and would sometimes sleep the entire afternoon if permitted to do so. His health generally, but with a dull, heavy feeling. There was a shaking sensation in the pit of his stomach. He lost all relish for food and much of his interest for things about him. He tried in vain to overcome these feelings, but they became stronger than his will. He began to fail rapidly. The Cortland physicians were consulted, pronouncing the disease typhoid fever. Finally several more eminent physicians were called in, but they were unable to explain it. Finally several more eminent physicians were called in, but they were unable to explain it.
